COMPLICATIONS BETWEEN TURKEY AND GREECE.

FURTHER TALK OF MEDIATION.

Mehemet Ali's Victory a Defeat --Russians Recovering Lost Ground.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—A dispatch to the Times from Constantinople, via Syra, says the Austrian ambassador, at a private interview with the Sultan, is reported to have spoken about the probability of Austrian mediation, and to have urged the greatest moderation upon the Sultan, pointing out the necessity of saving Russian amour propre, because Germany would not be indifferent to Russian humiliation.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—A Shumla special says Osman Pasha was attacked by the Russians on last Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. On the last day the Russians were repulsed with great loss.

LONDON, September 24.—Mehemet Ali's reported victory on Friday over Czarewitch turns out to have been a defeat, but the Russians do not seem to make much of the affair. Their official bulletin merely announces the following: "At the close of the engagement we held all our positions. A renewal of the attack is expected."

There is no estimate of losses, and none by the Turkish bulletins either.

The Daily News' correspondent with the Turks calls the affair an offensive reconnoisance by the battalions, and gives about the same result as the other accounts, but ascribes more credit and better results to the Turks than the Daily Telegraph's account, which stated that five or six attacks were made by the Turks, which failed, and the Turkish loss was very heavy.

The Russian positions and condition of army are described in flattering terms by the correspondent, who visited them last week. A steam ferry has been established between Pyrgas and Parapan, to replace the bridge which was removed, so it would seem that the Russians are recovering some of their lost ground.

FIRE IN WASHINGTON.

Burning of the Patent Office.

Baltimore Fire Companies in Washington in Thirty Minutes.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—1 P. M.

Shortly before noon a fire broke out in the conservatory above the model room of the Patent Office building; at 12:30 o'clock, the entire upper portion of the west wing of the building fronting on 9th street was in flames and the fire creeping along between ceiling towards north wing and main building on "F" street. The firemen have succeeded in getting hose in the upper windows of the main building, but the fire is not yet under control. Many models have been destroyed and clerks and others are assisting firemen in removing models, records, &c., to places of safety. The streets are crowded with spectators, and much excitement exists. The land office is directly under the portion where the fire is raging, but it is thought the valuable papers and records will be saved, and the fire confined to the upper stories. All the fire engines of the district, and several from Baltimore, are at the scene of the conflagration, the latter having reached here from Baltimore in about 30 minutes.

Indian Commission--Failure Anticipated--Whereabouts of Sitting Bull and Joseph--Indian Troubles Probable.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—A Helena, Montana, despatch of the 23d says: General Terry and the Indian Commission are expected to-day. It is generally believed that the Commission will be a failure, and that a devastating Indian war will be the result.

Sitting Bull, with a thousand warriors, is in the heart of the Canadian buffalo country, near Wood Mountains.

Joseph's band is heading straight north, and in addition 950 lodges of Yanktons, 250 lodges of Uncapapas, 120 lodges of Santees and 120 lodges of Assinaboines are making their way to Canada. Nearly all the northern tribes are believed to be ready for revolt, and all can cross the Canadian border in three days, and would number over 4,000 warriors, exclusive of Sitting Bull's thousand, and all will join the latter if thought politic. Sitting Bull is amply supplied with ammunition, and other tribes are rapidly procuring it from the Canadians. All the Indians profess utter contempt for the U. S. troops and government. Sitting Bull told a Catholic priest he would never confer or have anything to do with American officers, as they were all liars.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Stanley Matthews for the Supreme Court Bench--Beverly Tucker.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Stanley Matthews is mentioned for the Supreme Court bench if he fails to succeed himself in the Senate.

A leading Southern paper speaking of the speech made by Randolph Tucker at the Social Science Convention, makes an allusion to Col. Tucker as dead. Col. Tucker is here in good health practicing law in the interest of some favorite Southern enterprise.

Prince Napoleon Leaves Belgium.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The News correspondent at Paris, telegraphs the following: "The Prince Imperial has abandoned his visit to the Belgian frontier, professedly to avoid misconstruction, but more probably because of an intimation from the Belgian government that his presence on the frontier would be undesirable, while the elections were proceeding in France.

Gen. Bourbaki, commander at Lyons, who is on a furlough for his health has been peremptorily ordered to return to his post.

Ship Lost in a Fog.

LONDON, September 24.—The ship Blackwatch from Bremen for New York in ballast wrecked on Fair Isle Wednesday night during a fog. The crew were saved.

Another Savings Bank Gone Up.

NEW YORK, September 24.—A Chicago dispatch says that the Fidelity Savings Bank closed its doors this morning.

Vessels With Yellow Fever.

NEW YORK, September 14.—The steamer Gullermo from Sagra and the Brig Rome from Matanzas are at quarantine with yellow fever.

NIGHT DISPATCHES.

THE WASHINGTON FIRE.

Wholesale Destruction of Models, Records, &c.--A Livery Stable Burned.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—F street of the Patent Office was saved. The upper story of Ninth and G streets was gutted. The upper part of the building, the loft under the roof, was mostly filled with immense piles of papers and documents from the bureaus in the lower part of the building, while the upper story proper, under the loft, contained probably the finest collection of models in the world, which it is impossible to replace, as many of them date back to the early days of the Patent Office. There was also on this floor large numbers of maps, etc., these all being in wooden cases. The fire spread rapidly from one to the other.

The floors of the building are on brick arches, and consequently the lower part of the building was not reached by the fire, but the water played sad havoc with the books and papers below.

The relics of Gen. Washington and the original declaration of independence were saved. Many other articles were carried from the model room.

Green & Osborne's livery stable close by, was burned. It is asserted positively that this was the work of an incendiary.

Half a dozen people are missing, supposed to be lost.

The fire raged from 1 to 3 o'clock.

THE INDIAN WAR.

Pursuit of the Nez Perces.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The following telegram was received at the War Office last night:

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.

Gen. E. D. Townsend, Washington:

The following dispatch has been received from Capt. Benham, commanding Fort Ellis, dated 18th inst: "Howard's cavalry, under Sanford Otis, and a battery and company of scouts under Fletcher, joined Sturgis on the 14th."

Sturgis' last report, dated Musselshell, is as follows: "We kept close on the heels of the enemy yesterday, making 38 miles, killing 5 Indians and wounding many more. So far we have compelled them to drop over 60 head of horses." He reports his own horses much jaded, but says: "I am going ahead this morning, and purpose to push them until they drop their whole herds, or we drop, and I think they will abandon nearly their last horse today. Howard, with infantry and artillery, was north of the Yellowstone below Clark's Fork, on the 16th, moving to Musselshell via Baker's battle-field. He thinks the remnant of the Nez Perces will be absorbed by the hostile Sioux. The Crows are fighting the Nez Perces, and have brought in to the agency several hundred head of horses.

(Signed) P. H. SHERIDAN, General."

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Commissioner Williamson, of the General Land Office, has information from the government officials in Colcosin parish, Southwest Louisiana, that they have commenced the sale of timber seized from parties who, it is alleged, unauthoritatively cut it from government lands. What success the sale will be attended with is not known.

Chief Clerk Lockwood, of the Interior Department, states that the fire originated from spontaneous combustion among a lot of non-patented chemical material stored in the 9th street wing. The damage to the building is variously estimated from $300,000 to $500,000, while that resulting from the loss of models and other valuables connected with the patent office proper, is almost incalculable. Many of the clerks are at work to-night to assort the records and dry papers which have been injured by water. Arrangements have already been made to construct a temporary roof to the building, and the debris is now being removed preparatory to its construction.

EASTERN AFFAIRS.

Turks Repulsed at Tzerovona--Turkish Squadrons dispersed.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—A Russian official despatch, dated Gorney Studen, yesterday, says the Turkish attack on Tzerovona on the 21st was decidedly repulsed and not renewed. On the 22nd the Turks retreated. Our loss was 20 officers and 400 men placed hors du combat; that of the enemy at least 1,000 men. Our cavalry on the road between Plevna and Sofia have made two reconnoisances to learn the strength of the Turkish relief troops. On the 20th instant Adjutant Count Stackelborg dispersed three Turkish squadrons near Raschita, but withdrew as infantry were seen coming up in the rear. Our loss was five men killed and two officers and eleven men wounded.

On the 21st Col. Totalenin drove back a Turkish cavalry force, and discovered ten battallions, with artillery, and two regiments of cavalry intrenched near Tainin. By opening an artillery fire upon the Turks he stopped their further advance, and afterwards withdrew his troops to a post of observation.

The Presidential Party at Lynchburg.

LYNCHBURG, Sept. 24.—The Presidential party had a fine reception here, and were heartily cheered en route. The speeches were very short because the whistle blew. The President held a reception in the parlors of the hotel this afternoon, and was called upon by a vast crowd. To-night the visitors will be banqueted at the Norvell House, after which a German will be given in honor of the ladies of the party. The visitors leave to-morrow for Charlottesville, where they will visit Monticello, the home and burial place of Jefferson.

Trouble with the Miners.

SCRANTON, PA., Sept. 24.—The Delaware, Lackawanna & Western R. R. will open collieries to-day or to-morrow. Men have been picked out who are willing to work if given military protection. This will be given. There are thirteen companies of regulars, a battallion of City Guards and four other companies now in Scranton, and the three month's regiment will be called out by the Governor if needed. It is generally believed that if work is thus resumed trouble will ensue, as it is known that many companies of miners have been drilling recently.

Doings of the Fidelity Savings Bank.

CHICAGO, September 24.—The Fidelity Savings Bank has closed doors. Notice is posted on the doors stating that an injunction having been served a receiver will be applied for and the Bank be closed to await the action of the Court.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The barometer since last report has remained nearly stationary. It is lowest in the Northwest and highest in the Middle and South Atlantic States. A storm is reported as approaching Jamaica, probably the one noted as being in the windward Islands on the 21st. Northerly winds prevail in the South Atlantic and East Gulf States.

Indications: For the South Atlantic and East Gulf States, winds mostly from the northeast and partly cloudy weather with stationary pressure and temperature.

Heavy Bank Robbery.

COURTLAND, N. J., Sept. 24.—A package containing government and railroad bonds, certificates of stock, mortgages and promissory notes, estimated at $200,000 stolen from First National Bank, Courtland, N. J The loss was not discovered until morning. The securities were in a large pocket book, which was kept in the safe of the bank. The bank suffers no loss as the securites belong to private individuals.

Malfeasance in Office.

DEFIANCE, September 24.—A. Short, County Treasurer, is from seven to twenty thousand dollars short in accounts. The State authorities have ordered investigations.

Death of Rev. Dr. Duncan.

Poisoned by Toad Stools.

CLEAVELAND, O., Sept. 24.—Mrs. Jas. St. Clair and her son and daughter were poisoned by eating toad stools for mushrooms. The two children died last evening, and the mother is not expected to recover.

Bank Officers Indicted for Embezzlement.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—The Grand Jury indicted Spencer, Guild and Buckley, officers of the State savings bank for embezzlement of $700,000. None of them are in the city, nor their whereabouts known.

McClellan Accepts.

Thanks to the Raleigh News.

(Newbernian, Sept. 22.)

As a journalist, as an unmistakable Democrat, and as an admirer of fair play all round, we tender our thanks and the thanks of all right thinking Democrats to our esteemed cotemporary, the NEWS, for the open, manly and independent stand it has taken in unearthing and exposing the frauds and speculations of the Democratic officials of Raleigh. The NEWS would have been recreant to its trust as a public journal, and false to the Democratic party, if, in the face of the damning evidence of the thefts of its puny city officials, it had have held its peace. But being, we are happy to say, equal to the occasion, the NEWS has raised the curtain, given us a peep behind the scenes and let in light on their dark and sinister deeds—such deeds as are in ill-accord with the principles of Democracy. Again we return our thanks, and hope the press may always be ready to expose the acts of evil-doers, whensoever and wheresoever they may be found—let them be Democrats, Radicals or what-nots. We are with you, neighbor, on this occasion, finger and glove.

"The Rape of the Dog."

[Special Correspondence of the News.]

PITTSBORO, Sept. 20, 1877.

Chatham Court has a rather unusual case on trial this week. One Mrs. Ferguson, an old lady, under the advice of her family and friends, swapped a cow, two steers and a dog, which we will call "Fowler," for a colt, giving five dollars "to boot," as the phrase goes. The trade is made with one Perry. Bye and bye the old lady concludes that she has made a bad trade, and wishes to "swap back," but Mr. Perry does not "see it;" and she goes for him by making complaint to a neighboring magistrate, who reinforces by calling in all the Justices of the township, who put their judicial heads together and decide that the parties must "swap back." In the meantime Mr. Perry, thinking to taste a little beef steak, had killed one of the unfortunate steers. A new complaint is now made against the luckless defendant—that of malicious injury to stock. Another paper is fulminated from the judicial desk, and the constable, armed with these two formidable weapons, accompanied by the old lady, a young woman and some of the friends and neighbors, with the officiating magistrate at the head, and the colt at the rear of the procession, take up their solemn march to the abode of their unsuspecting victim. The 'Squire calls out Perry and proceeds to explain their mission, when he declares he don't want to swap any more, and forbids the "'Squire and his gang to enter his yard." Nothing daunted, the bold 'Squire directs the constable to arrest Perry on his second writ, which this daring officer proceeds at once to do.

During this little operation, the line is formed and a charge is made along the whole line, and when the din of battle has hushed and the dust and smoke have cleared away, it is seen that the lame colt has been launched far into the invaded premises and the faithful Fowler is embraced by his happy mistress, who hurries him away, in her transport of joy, to again gladden her desolate hearth. The cattle are lost but Fowler is saved!

Alas! the redoubtable magistrate and his "gang," as they were contemptiously styled by Perry, are not long left to enjoy the fruits of their victory. Perry now assumes the offensive and indicts the whole party, excepting, perhaps, the two women. The defendants appeared yesterday to stand their trial. After examining a "cloud of witnesses," Messrs. Manning & Waddell, for the defendants, and Mr. Boyd, for the State, made eloquent speeches, when the jury drew a long breath and were ready for the judge's charge.

"Gentlemen of the jury," said Judge Buxton, sotto voce, "in the days of heroic Greece, the beautiful Helen was stolen and carried away to Troy, and a long war was the result, which has been celebrated in the immortal strains of an epic poem which has come down to our day. In modern times, a beautiful lady reclined on her couch and her long raven tresses hung carelessly over her blushing cheeks. A bold and knightly lover, fired by the sight, clipped one of those beautiful ringlets, and this daring assault became the subject of a beautiful poem, 'The Rape of the Lock.' History but repeats itself, and 'another Helen has fired another Troy!' To-day, we have, gentlemen, 'The Rape of the Dog!' The Judge then explained the law and gave the case to the jury.

THE PRESIDENT'S SOUTHERN TOUR.

At Knoxville--Shouts of Welcome--Address of Welcome--The President's Response--An Example of Freedom of Speech--"Hurrah for Tilden" --Peace Between the National and State Governments.

KNOXVILLE TENN., Sept. 21.—President Hayes and party were met at Chattanooga by the members of the reception committee, and arrived here on a special train at 11:30 A. M. They were received at the outer depot by Mayor Carpenter and the chairman of the committee of reception, and entering carriages, were driven to the Lamar House, escorted by the Knoxville Rifles, Captain Allison, and a company of University Cadets, commanded by Lieut. Baxter, U. S. A.

DRAWN BY MILK-WHITE STEEDS.

The President occupied an open phaeton drawn by four milk-white horses, in which were seated Mayor Carpenter, Percy Dickinson and Rev. Dr. Humes. The other members of his suite followed in carriages. The streets were densely jammed with people eager to obtain a sight of the Chief Magistrate, and the shouts of welcome were loud and prolonged. As the procession formed, the University battery on Temperance hill rang out a welcome in thunder tones. The march was a perfect ovation, and it was with difficulty the police could keep the way clear for the procession to pass, so eagerly did the surging multitude press forward toward the carriages. The distinguished visitors alighted at the ladies' entrance at the hotel, and proceeded theuce to the platform in front, where the address of welcome was delivered by Rev. Thomas W. Humes.

THE PRESIDENT SPEAKS.

President Hayes said: "In reply, my friends of Knoxville and East Tennessee, I congratulate you on this beautiful day, contrasting as it does so agreeably with the gloom of yesterday. I am glad to have heard the address of the distinguished gentleman to which we have just listened. You are entirely right in intimating that in the vast numbers that we see around us are united men of all political parties, and that the first point in the welcome is that it is respect for the office which, for the time being, it is my fortune to occupy. This multitude has assembled to show respect to the office of Chief Magistrate of the country and to exhibit its patriotism to the nation, to the laws, and to the constitution. [A voice, "Hurrah for Tilden."] They expect to show their attachment to freedom of speech, of which we have examples from time to time, [laughter and applause,] and, my friends, it adds immensely to the satisfaction of this meeting to know that it is an assembly of men of both parties and veterans of both armies and citizens of all races. [Applause.] Such an assembly meeting as you do with the utmost good feeling and friendship towards each other is proof that the general course of the administration, if not the general intent, the general purpose of the administration in regard to the pacification of the whole country, is here heartily approved. And, my friends, why should we not approve a policy which seeks a speedy restoration of national harmony?

"If we regard business, if we regard commercial interests and all other important interests, are not they best promoted by friendship, by peace in behalf of the national government and State government—peace between the different sections of the country, peace between the different classes of enterprise, of development, of progress and happiness in the various walks of life?

"My friends, I have [illegible] last two weeks [illegible] general discussion [illegible] aration that I can [illegible] same in substance [illegible] and I find the feeling [illegible] ion of the people everywhere upon this subject that there [illegible] sion for a change of topic even [illegible] possible to do so. When a committee comes to me of workingmen I am glad to receive them; if a committee of colored men I have the same feeling for them; if democrats I give the same attention to them; and with republicans it is the same for me. I believe that the government of the United States ought to regard alike the rights and interests of all sections of the country, and that the State government, as well as the national government, should regard alike equally the interests of all races of men.

"Now, again, upon this there is no longer any cause of separation. Washington announced that the constitution made us one people. Mr. Webster, coming after, said; 'We have one constitution, we have one Union, we have one destiny.' Let us, my friends, bear in mind these great ideas. We may separate from each other as to currency, as to tariff, as to internal improvement, but, my friends, we must all agree with Jackson, that 'the Union must and shall be preserved.' We can look into the faces of this audience and see, no doubt, the faces of soldiers of the Federal and soldiers of the Confederate armies. Now we understand each other. We have been introduced to each other. We are acquainted. We have met before. [Laughter.] And as I demand respect from the man I found fighting against me for my convictions, I yield the same measure of respect to him who fought for his convictions.

"I want the people of all sections to be better acquainted. I want the people of all sections should be introduced to each other; not exactly as the soldiers have been, but to be friends, as the soldiers here are friends, and one of the great objects of this tour is to encourage intercourse between different sections of the country. We want you in New England and Ohio and New York. I want the men of Tennessee to be as much at home on the soil of Vermont as in any State in the South. I want the people of Ohio to feel as much at home in the South as in any State north of the Ohio river; to be united in duty, and united as citizens of different sections, then shall we be a happier people; the end of our career."

At the conclusion of the speeches a public reception was held in the hotel parlors, lasting until two o'clock, when the President and party visited the Opera House, where the pupils of the city schools were assembled.

Returning to the hotel the Presidential suite and invited guests dined, and after a brief rest entered carriages and were driven to points of interest.

A story is current that ex-Marshal Bazaine now in France, at Lyons, where he is said to have visited the old Imperial Prefect of Police, Pietre, who is lying ill in that city. This story, if true, which seems to be rather doubtful, would seem to indicate a tolerably audacious disposition to plot for power on the part of the Imperialists.

Two men were riding in the cars the other morning, when one asked the other if he had a pleasant place of residence. "Yes," was the reply; "we have seven nice large rooms over a store." "Over a store! I shouldn't think that would be a quiet place." "Oh! it is quiet enough. The folks don't advertise."

The Atlanta Constitution thinks there will probably be ten entries for the military prize at the fair.

What Every Body Says Must be True.

The incontrovertible testimony offered by those who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription induced the doctor to sell it under a positive guarantee. Many ladies have refrained from using it on account of a general feeling of prejudice against advertised medicines. Let me ask a question. Are you prejudiced against sewing machines because you have seen them advertised? or can you doubt the skill and ingenuity required in their invention? Again, would you refuse to insure your house because the company advertised that it had paid millions in losses, and yet had a capital of several millions? Do such advertisements shake your confidence, and create prejudices? Then why refuse to credit the testimony of those who have found the Favorite Prescription to be all that is claimed for it in overcoming those ailments peculiar to your sex? Why submit to the use of harsh, and perhaps caustic treatment, thus aggravating your malady, when relief is guaranteed, and a positive, perfect, and permanent cure has been effected in thousands of cases?

WABASH STATION, ILL., Oct. 24, 1876.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Buffolo, N. Y.:

Dear Sir—Allow me to extend my most sincere thanks to you for the great benefit my wife has received from the use of your Favorite Prescription. She suffered almost intolerably before using your medicine, and I had tried the skill of several physicians but to no purpose. Finally, I thought I would give the Favorite Prescription a trial, and she is now sound and well.

Very gratefully yours,

D. A. HUNTER.

The "Lost Art" Recoveerd.

Gslen, the most celebrated physician, flourished in the second century. His theory was that roots and herbs, properly compounded, are Nature's remedy. His cures were so marvelous that he was accusen of magic His mighty skill and success silenced his enemies, and his opinions held sway in the medical world for centuries, until the art of compounding vegetable remedies was gradually lost in the thickening gloom of the middle ages, and poisonous mineral mixtures took its place. But the clouds are breaking in our day, and the almost magical virtues of Vegetine, joyfully attested by thousands stamp it as a true Galenical compound, and as a blood purifier and health-restorer probably has had no equal since the days of Galen himself.

A Hopeless Sufferer Cured by VEGETINE

NOANK, CONN., Nov. 11, 1874.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ:—

Dear Sir: Thinking that a statement of my case may meet the eye of some one suffering from Scrofula, I beg you to publish the following, which I cheerfully furnish of my own free will.

I have been afflicted with Scrofulous Humor from my birth, and at times very badly. When about six years old the disease made its appearance on my head, and it was deemed advisable to have the hair shaved, but they were obliged to cut it off with embroidery scissors, as my head was so sore I could not have it shaved. After we had succeeded in healing the sores on the outside, they broke, but on the inside, causing me great pain. There have been times when the surface of my hands was all raw from the effect of this humor, and no pen can describe the great suffering I have endured.

About three years ago small kernels made their appearance on the chords of my neck, several of which grew into quite large tumors, and nothing which we could use would remove them. My whole system was so full of scrofulous humor that it seemed ready to burst through the skin at all parts of my body, and I was in a terrible weak and feeble condition. The tumors on my neck had grown to such a size as to disfigure me badly. When in this hopeless condition I was advised by a friend to try the Vegetine, and I at once commenced taking it, and after I had used a short time the tumors commenced discharging, and I do not think I overestimate the quantity from each tumor when I say that a good-sized teacupful of corruption ran out, after which they commenced to heal up and disappear, and now my neck is as smooth and free from bunches as any lady's.

I believe the Vegetine has entirely cleansed every taint of scrofula from my system, and I desire to have this statement published, so that other sufferers may find relief, as they surely will do, if they try the Vegetine.

It will afford me pleasure to give any further information relative to my case to all who will call or address me.

ALICE SHIRLEY.

VEGETINE.

Unsolicited Evidence.

SPRING FIELD, ME., Ma14, 1872.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir: My daughter has been out of health for about two years. About a year ago she had a tumor come on her side which was very painful.

I saw Vegetine advertised in the Farmer, and sent to Bangor and got two bottles. She is now taking the second bottle; her health is much improved, and the tumor is going away as fast as it came. Every one in this vicinity knows what Vegetine has done for my daughter, and I take every opportunity to recommend it to those who are not aware of its great value.

Very respectfully,

MRS. SUSAN C. RANDALL.

Every One Speaks Favorably.

EAST MARSHFIELD, Mass., Aug. 31, 1870.

MR. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir: I have been troubled with Canker from childhood, causing my mouth to be so sore at times that I was unable to eat. Have taken many preparations, but with no effect until I tried your Vegetine. After taking a few doses I found it relieved the faintness at the stomach that always accompanies Canker Rumor; and by the time I had taken the third bottle my mouth was entirely cured. Have not been troubled with it since that time, which is eight months ago. I have recommended it to several of my acquaintances, and every one speaks favorably of its good effect. Yours truly,

P. S. SHERMAN.

Out of the 3,000 convicts of the State of Texas, only 316 are inside of the penitentiary. The balance are at work under contracts made by the lessees. Nearly all the convicts of the State of Louisiana are at work outside of the penitentiary under contracts made by Captain James, the lessee.

A young fellow in love with a widow got so jealous at a ball in Houston, Texas, the other night, that he got a license and a preacher, and going to the widow's home a little before day, informed her that she must marry him instanter or he would make a lead mine of the other fellow. She married him.

The indications of a brisk fall trade in the commercial centres of the State, says the Savannah News, are very cheering, and the Augusta Chronicle announces, after an interview with prominent merchants, that "trade in all branches will be more satisfactory than it has been in any season since the war."

Here is an extract from the Virginia Game Law: "Be it enacted by the General Assembly, That it shall not be lawful for any person to kill or capture, or offer for sale or buy, any partridges or quail, between the first day of February and the first day of November of each year, within this State; nor shall it be lawful to capture partridges at any time by means of nets or traps of any kind until after the expiration of two years from the passage of this act."

Richmond Enquirer: A gang of tramps numbering about twenty made a descent upon the depot at Warrenton Junction, Va., on the Virginia Midland railroad, on Tuesday, and robbed the building of everything portable it contained, amounting in value to about $400. They next attempted to board the pay-train near Manassas, but were kept at bay until the engine could be reversed and the train run back to Manassas. Then a number of citizens and railroad employees organized a posse and succeeded in capturing six of the gang, who are now in jail at Brentsville, Va.

At Chattanooga, President Hayes attempted to speak as the band struck up "Dixie," and he laughingly stepped aside, and when the band ceased said: "My friends, I have heard that tune before. President Lincoln, you know, said that we captured that tune, and now as those who were fond of it during the war like to hear it, and as we, having captured it, like to hear it, we are all glad to hear it. [Laughter and applause.] I was about to say that the distinguished honor belongs, I believe, to Chattanooga, through the action of the soldiers of the Confederate army and the soldiers of the Union army brought together, the patriots of all shades of opinion in the interesting and important ceremonies of decorating the graves of the dead heroes."

Danville Reporter: Last Thursday a very damaging hail storm passed through this section, doing a great deal of injury to the tobacco and fodder interests. In this vicinity, and several miles to the northwest, these crops were literally ruined, and in some instances will not be worth saving.

The Charlotte Observer says: Messrs. Hall Bros., of Hickory, have already handled this season four hundred thousand pounds of dried fruit, including blackberries, apples and peaches, and estimate that they will ship twice as much more before the season is over. A million two hundred thousand pounds!

Hendersonville Courier: Mr. Peter Stradley, of this town, has in his possession an old army chest, the property of his brother, who was a soldier in the English army, and a follower of Wellington in the famous battle of Waterloo. The chest was in the tent of his brother during the memorable battle. Mr. Stradley carefully preserves it as a relic of the past.

Newbernian: S. N. Dewey, Esq., called our attention yesterday to a young pear tree in his garden, on Pollock street, which is now bearing its third crop for this season; some of the fruit of the second crop though fully matured still remains upon the tree. The younger pears are now about the size of an English walnut. Mr. Dewey has also a fine plum tree now in bloom for the second time this year.

Wilmington Star: There are said to be about six hundred employes at the Rock Quarry, in Brunswick, getting out rock for the government works, and it is estimated by one of our magistrates that at least one-third of this number are professional thieves, who have congregated there from various sections of the State, and who will be let loose on the community as soon as the cold weather sets in and the work stops. If this statement is correct our police authorities, magistrates, and others will have their hands full during the winter, and citizens generally will have to be on the qui vive.

The Mecklenburg Presbytery which recently sat at Davidson river, Transylvania county, passed resolutions forbidding members of their churches engaging in worldly amusements, such as dancing, visiting theatres, circuses, &c. A resolution condemning the action of the General Assembly in sending delegates to, and thereby endorsing the Pan Presbyterian Council which met recently in Scotland, was also adopted by the Presbytery. The meeting was a very pleasant and harmonious one. The Presbytery adjourned to meet in Monroe next April. We get these items from the Charlotte Observer.

Greensboro Central Protestant: Abraham Pugh, living near Mt. Pleasant church, Guilford county, was drowned on Friday evening last, in Stinking Quarter creek and his body was found next day. The circumstances are extremely painful. The deceased was in the habit of drinking to excess, and was intoxicated at the time. He desired to ride to a certain point beyond the creek to procure a supply of spirits. His wife remonstrated with him and endeavored to dissuade him from his purpose, but he declared he would have the spirits, or go to it—if trying. He then started horse-back, and attempting to cross the creek, he was swept on and drowned.

THE PEACE POLICY.

Reconciliation between the North and South must form the basis of enduring peace and prosperity in the Union. The implacables of the North, and the irreconcilables of the South may deny this; but their denial is idle as the winds. "The truth is mighty and will prevail." The National Democratic party recognized this truth long ago; and emblazoned it on the folds of its banner, in 1868, in 1872, and again in 1876. Seymour was the first to bear this standard to the front. He was overwhelmingly defeated. We were then too near the war; the conflict was ended, it is true, but the hatreds and memories of the struggle were altogether too fresh; it was conqueror and conquered, victor and vanquished, Yankee and Rebel, still. Four years later the lamented Horace Greeley took up this banner of reconciliation, only to meet a most crushing overthrow. Last year the Democrats placed it in the hands of Samuel J. Tilden, and it was borne at last to victory.

When Tilden was ruled out by the Electoral Commission, there was widespread dejection among the friends of Reconciliation. It was feared that bloody-shirtism had triumphed again; and we would have another four years of oppression and wrong and sectional animosity, such as were witnessed under Grant. But to the astonishment of the whole country the Republican President stepped forward as the champion of the peace policy, catching up and raising aloft the standard that we thought had gone down in defeat with Tilden. Were this the act solely of Rutherford B. Hayes, President of the United States, we would set little value upon it, although he possesses the power to impress his ideas in a practical way on the country. But it is more than a mere individual act. It is the act of the representative of the better and now prevailing elements of the Northern Republican party, who, united with the Democracy on this platform, constitute a vast preponderating majority of the American people. The friends of reconciliation are no longer in the minority. Democratic principles have at length triumphed, and the people of the United States to-day sustain the President in his peace policy everywhere, with few exceptions. The followers of Blaine have abandoned their resistance to him and the implacables of the South will soon quit sulking over the destruction of sectionalism. The demonstrations at Louisville, Nashville, Chattanooga, Knoxville and Lynchburg, are sufficient proof of the fact that the people of the South are ready to sustain President Hayes in his efforts to restore fraternal feeling between the sections, and destroy the last vestige of bloody-shirtism.

In doing this the Southern people do not join, or propose to join, that mythical organization, "the President's party." In the language of the Petersburg Index-Appeal, the Southern people "do not propose to marry his politics; they do not like some of his friends; they do not trust others; they do not underwrite his title; they do not endorse numerous of his official acts; but they believe he has acted fully up to the lights before him; that he has tried his best to do right; that he aims to walk along the straight way and in the pure atmosphere of a patriot, removed from the impure taint of the mere sectional politician; and because they see these seeds of good feeling and these fruits of good action, they are ready to hold up his hands, to cheer him along his course and to strengthen his cause against that of the extremists and irreconcilables."

OUR Chatham correspondent sends us an account of a rather extraordinary case in court, which provoked a good deal of merriment.

JUDGE KERR AND THE HOSKINS CASE DECISION.

The western mail brings interesting accounts from Polk Superior Court. The Fall term of this Court was held last week, His Honor Judge Kerr presiding, and Solicitor Montgomery prosecuting for the State. One day during the week, the case of the State vs. Lynch Young was called. This case with Judge Schenck's opinion, was published in the NEWS several months ago. Our readers will remember that Young was indicted by the grand jury of Polk county for an assault alleged to have been committed on a citizen of that county, while he (Young) was acting as a special deputy marshal. Judge Schenck at the last term of the court had refused to permit the defendant, Young, to transfer his case to the Federal Court. Subsequent to this refusal, the Supreme Court of the State in the case of the State vs. Hoskins, reversed the ruling of His Honor, deciding that writs of certiorari issued from the Federal Courts must be obeyed by the civil Courts of this State.

When this case was called on the morning of the 19th inst., a rare colloquy ensued between His Honor, Judge Kerr, and Mr. J. M. Justice, attorney for the defendant. A correspondent of the Hendersonville Courier gives it as follows:

Mr. Justice —"May it please your Honor, this defendant is indicted for an offence committed whilst he was one of a posse of revenue officials. I desire to have his cause transferred from this court to"—

Judge Kerr—the rugged lines in his face hardening, and his lips closing in sullen and obstinate firmness—aside, "Ugh!"

"The federal court," Mr. Justice continued: "Your Honor is aware that Judge Schenck has been overruled in"—

Judge Kerr—with a sneer of contempt on his face—"Yes, and I hold with Judge Schenck, his decision was right, the supreme court to the contrary!"

Mr. Justice—blandly continuing—"But, if your Honor please, Judge Schenck has been overruled and the decision must be accepted as law, and I presume your Honor will so accept it."

Judge Kerr—indignantly, and with great emphasis and feeling—"No sir! I shall not accept it! I regard the opinion in the case of Hoskins as a most extraordinary one! I do not believe that the people of North Carolina understand that decision. It means that a band of desperadoes, under the guise of revenue officers, can go to the house of one of the most reputable citizens of Polk county, and with profane and indecent language, demand the liberty of searching his house, and outraging the feelings, if not the persons, of his wife and daughters. It means that our people can be insulted and outraged by these revenue officials, and the civil courts are powerless to punish the offenders. No, sir, I do not recognize it as the law! I shall not obey the writ of certiorari! If the federal courts are disposed to take this prisoner from this court, let them attempt it! I know of no power by which it can be done! I shall not regard the decision of the supreme court as law! It is not law! If our people are to be outraged and have no protection from these ruffianly assaults of revenue officers, the sooner it is known the better it will be!

"Why, sir, in Hoskins' case, the testimony was that the revenue officer Hoskins tied with a rope the arms of a poor, defenceless woman, and yet instead of punishing the brute, I am reliably informed that the Government paid Mr. Ball, the attorney for the defendant, a fee of $500 for his defence. No, sir!" (with increased vehemence and feeling) "the prisoner must be tried in this court! The cause shall not be removed! I shall not regard the writ! Neither do I recognize the decision of the supreme court!"

This language, spoken as it was with the utmost emphasis, created a profound sensation in the crowded court room. An affidavit was then filed by Mr. Justice, asking for a change of venue. The case was removed to Rutherford, and in default of bail the defendant was committed to jail.

On the following day, Judge Kerr rescinded this decision, and ordered the clerk to certify the case to the Federal Court; saying that he did not desire to "provoke a conflict with the Federal Courts."

"The King of France, with forty thousand men, Went up a hill, and so came down again."

Judge Kerr, equally with the King of France, recognised perhaps that discretion is the better part of valor. It is well to insist upon the right of the State to try in its own courts offenders against its criminal laws; but that right can hardly be established by resorting to the violent course involved in open defiance of the Federal Judiciary and the Supreme Court of the State. The powers of the Federal Judiciary are not "exhausted;" and the State Court could not long maintain itself in a refusal to obey a mandatory writ of the United States Court. Judge Kerr acted wisely in speedily retreating from the advanced position which he first took in the case. It was untenable ground. His bold utterances against the laws and decisions which operate to shield from punishment Revenue officers guilty of crime, of course must find a general response from the public. But we take it that the public is willing to quietly await the final decision of the question in the United States Supreme Court, and avoid a conflict which could only end in favor of the Federal Judiciary.

UNEQUAL ASSESSMENTS.

It is the manifest purpose of the laws providing for the valuation of property for taxation, that the valuation be true—that is, neither above nor below the marketable value. It is not always an easy matter to get at the actual cash value of either land or personal property; and therefore absolute accuracy in assessments need not be looked for. They will often, necessarily, hit wide of the mark. But something approximating accuracy is expected, and should be insisted upon.

It is for many reasons important that the valuations should be true. 1. That the State, the county, or the city may get its dues, as contemplated by the law. 2. That the burden of supporting the government may be distributed equally, as near as possible. 3. That by swelling the volume of property listed, rates of taxation may be lowered. 4. Because the law, as well as justice, equity, the policy of the government, and the reason of the thing requires it.

Let us look about us. Are the assessments of the property of Raleigh, accurate and fair, as contemplated by the laws regulating the raising of revenue for city, county and State purposes? If they are accurate and fair, well and good: no harm can result from the enquiry. If they are not, the sooner the irregularities are rectified the better, for all hands. And it would be well to enquire if the unequal assessments come of ignorance, favoritism, or erroneous judgment; or of a combination of all these. The matter is worthy the attention of tax-payers.

A critical examination of the lists, discloses many gross inequalities in the valuations, instead of that perfect fairness required by the law. It is unnecessary just now to call names or to specify facts. We merely wish to direct attention to the subject, in order that the next assessment may be more accurate and equitable, and that the burdens of government another year may fall equally on all.

WE said that "a paper which speaks out boldly and will not wink at the short-comings of men in office because they belong to its own political party, is worth thousands of dollars to any community." The Charlotte Democrat notices this remark and says: "By pursuing that course you may expect to offend a few dignitaries, but that should make no difference. Some men who are elected as Democrats think it a great crime for a Democratic paper to criticise their conduct in any respect. The NEWS is right in speaking out plainly, no matter who is affected or exposed."

A poor tramp wandered into this city a few days ago, sick and destitute. As soon as his condition was made known to the public, through the medium of the newspapers, a kind lady took him from the police station to her own home, where one of the best and most humane physicians was called to attend him. He received every kindness and attention, but disease had too deep a hold on him; and he died. If all the unemployed workingmen who wander about sick and destitute over the land, were treated in the same spirit of charity and benevolence displayed towards this poor man, the tramp nuisance would soon become a thing of the past. Tramps are not always criminals.

THE Charlotte Observer says "that Rev. E. F. Rockwell, formerly professor of Greek and Latin at Davidson College, and now pastor of Fifth Creek and other Presbyterian churches in Iredell county, is engaged in writing a book in which he will endeavor to establish the fact that the late much discussed Peter Stewart Ney, was the veritable Marshal Ney." The subject is hardly worth the candle; but if the publication of a book on Peter Stewart Ney will have the effect of removing that fossilized individual from newspaper comment, Rev. Mr. Rockwell will render the world a signal service.

THE Wilmington Star has entered its 21st semi-annual volume, which makes it just ten years old—the oldest daily in North Carolina. We are pleased to observe the Star's prosperity.

The Southern Underwriters Association.

(Wilmington Star.)

The people and the press are interested in the uncovering of the transactions of the Raleigh Southern Underwriters Association. From the first it was believed in Raleigh and other places to be a regular "wild cat" concern that had no substantial basis, and that did not intend to transact business in accordance with the recognized principles of well regulated fire insurance companies.

The company professed to have a[ssets] to the amount of $152,379.13, [yet] it is said a loss of $15,000 ca[me] to burst, and those insured have [to] whistle for their money. T[here] something very mysterious [about] whole thing. How could it [have] had those assets? What has [become] of the one hundred and fifty-two th[ousand] and dollars they professed to have h[ad]? We trust the whole matter will be dil[igently] and scrutinizingly inquired into, and if fraud has been attempted upon the public, that those guilty will be prosecuted and punished, if that be possible. This is the first time in the history of our State that a company has been organized that was suspected of foul play from the start. The News thus comments:

"The conduct of the associatism subsequent to its suspension or withdrawal appears inexcusable. We have waited in vain for some good reason to be shown for the recent action of the corporation—in first, its suspension or withdrawal from business without notice or a statement to the public or to its own policy holders; second, its failure to verify the last annual statement of the condition of the company, required by our law to be made to the Secretary of State; third, its failure to pay up its losses; fourth, its stout resistance to the efforts being made to discover the whereabouts of its assets. For the course of this association in respect of these points, we see no justification or excuse."

A writer in the Syracuse Northern Christian Advocate is much disturbed by the efforts of the Roman Catholics to proselyte the freedmen in the South. He says: "In nearly every Southern city gigantic schemes are on foot to accomplish this result. The Catholic schools are being established in the centre of large colored populations. In many cases tuition is offered free, and in others they are hired to come. The priests and nuns are lynxed-eyed and ever on the alert to gain advantage."

SOME frequent the Virginia marshes about 1st September, and leave about the time of frost. Nearly all of those offered in the market are killed with paddles at night.

A few enterprising, energetic men, with some capital to help build up one of the best manufacturing and trading towns in the State. We have two Railroads, making it a competing point for both Northern and Southern shipping, giving a great advantage over other points on the line of either Railroad. Anticipating the growth and business of the place I have made some very handsome improvements which I will sell very cheap, and on long time to enterprising parties. From 6,000 to 10,000 bales of cotton may be handled in trade every year.

No. 1 is a three-story brick building with tin roof, 40x120 ft; two large store rooms on first story. The two upper floors are well suited for a large Tobacco Factory; situated in 100 feet of the Chatham Depot.

No. 2 is a new three-story brick hotel, mansard roof with 14 rooms. Dining room 24x30; all elegantly finished. Situated in 200 feet of both railroads. Will rent or sell.

No. 3 is a commodious dwelling with 11 rooms, four of which are 20x20 feet; has a large cellar, a lawn of 1½ acres nicely shaded and set in grass, two large barns, two clover lots, orchard of nice fruits, vines and strawberries, containing 40 acres of well-improved land under a new plank fence.

No. 4 is a plot of 100 acres under a plank fence, lying on the N. C. R. R. for ½ mile, on which land is two elegant building sites.

No. 5 and 6 are situated in a beautiful grove of native forest trees, each with 7 rooms, smoke house, &c., and are very desirable residences; in 150 feet of the Chatham Railroad.

No. 7 is an elegant residence of 9 rooms on a beautiful wide street, 400 yards from the Railroad and near the academy. Lot may contain two, ten or twenty-five acres.

No. 8 is a comfortable cottage of 5 rooms adjoining the above lot, fronts same street, is on a nice lot of two acres. Large barn &c.

No. 9, 10, 11 and 12, are comfortable 2 room cottages on one acre lots, situated between the two R. Rs.

Any persons wanting houses in a healthy railroad village, where a nice paying business can be built up, would do well to come and see for themselves. If you like you can get any sort of time you desire.

DR TUTT'S PILLS

Meet the wants of those who need a safe and reliable medicine. The immense demand which has so rapidly followed their introduction is evidence that they do supply this want, and proves them to be ever furnished the American people. The highest medical authorities concede their superiority over all others, because they possess alterative, tonic, and healing properties contained in no other medicine. Being strongly Anti-Bilious, they expel all humors, correct a vitiated state of the system, and, being purely vegetable, they do not, like other pills, leave the stomach and bowels in a worse condition than they found them, but, on the contrary, impart a healthy tone and vigor before unknown.

OUR WORDS INDORSED

Dr. C. L. MITCHELL, Ft. Meade, Fla., says: "I know the superiority of your pills, and want to see them used instead of the worthless compounds sold in this country." . . .

Rev. R. L. SIMPSON, Louisville, Ky., says: "Tutt's pills are worth their weight in gold." . . .

Had Sick Headache & Piles 30 Years. "I am well. Gaining strength and flesh every day." . . . R. S. Austin, Springfield, Mass.

He Defies Chills and Fever. "With Tutt's pills, we defy chills. Illinois owes you a debt of gratitude." F. R. Ripley, Chicago, Ill.

Sold everywhere. Price 25 cents. Office, 35 Murray Street, New York.

TUTT'S HAIR DYE

Gray hair is changed to a glossy black by a single application of this dye. It is easily applied, acts like magic, and is as harmless as spring water. Never disappoints. Sold by druggists. Price $1.00. Office, 35 Murray Street, New York.

SLEEP.

BY ANDREW B. SAXTON.

The weary portals of the sight we close;
And, in the bark of Somnus sails unfurled,
In snowy wreaths of cloud, our souls are hurled
At mercy of each fitful breeze that blows.
Then from the depths that prescience never knows,
We through a varied flood of dreams are whirled
And wake to find the life stream that has curled
For ages round our planet, changeless flows.
And so, when drowsy death shall seal our eyes,
And from lamenting friends we pass away,
It may be that, awaking, we shall rise
Refreshed and strengthened for a longer stay,
And find the same old earth, the same blue skies
That we but lost in slumber yesterday.

—Scribner for October.

NEWS NOTES.

Philadelphians complain of a superabundance of silver coin.

Miss Fredrica Belmont, who married S. S. Howland at Newport, received $50,000 in wedding presents.

Philadelphia papers are now appealing to the women of America to save the "Permanent" Exhibition from failure.

Ex-Governor Hendricks is expected to return to New York from Europe this week. A reception will be given him by the New York Democracy.

Hiram Cranston, the well known keeper of the New York Hotel, and a noted Southern sympathiser, died suddenly of heart disease a few days ago.

The New York Episcopal Register of the 22nd instant has the following: The Church Congress will begin its sessions in this city immediately after the adjournment of the General Convention which meets in October at Boston.

Hawkeye: General Howard says he is right on the heels of the Indians. There is nothing very cheering about this, however. We have seen a man right on the heels of a mule, but he didn't seem to be getting much the better of the mule.

The Philadelphia Times thinks that Mr. Blaine showed what kind of a President he would have made in Mr. Hayes' place when he drew upon the office holders in Maine for election money: "The Maine statesman still goes in for the old flag and a contribution."

Mr. Hayes has been invited by the residents to visit Columbia, S. C., and it is understood that he will proceed thither in January and February, when they propose to extend to him a grand reception, with any number of Hampton legions mounted and in the uniform of the last campaign.

Hampton's Speech at Chattanooga.

(Reported for the Baltimore Sun.)

I scarcely feel that I am authorized to detain you one moment when those of you out there are standing in the rain, but I will at least have the comfort of knowing, if I do so, that my speech will not be a dry one. I come to you, my friends, having met the President of the United States when he first came upon Southern soil. The authorities in Louisville did me the honor to invite me to join him there, and that gentleman himself added to that honor by expressing the wish that I should come. I went there expecting to remain only a few hours to greet him on Southern soil as a Southern man, and I recognize in him a man higher than a party man—[applause]—a man who had forgotten that he was a party man as he rose to be a patriot, [applause,] and it has been my additional good fortune to accompany him as he journeyed southward, and I think we may say that he has struck the solid South. He is here in Chattanooga, standing upon your battle-scarred plains, looking and seeing every hillside crowded with the evidences of war. Remembering that your soil has been stained by precious blood poured out by brave men who were fighting honestly for their convictions on each side, I am glad to come here with him and see the motto you have written there of peace and harmony once more restored in our beloved country.

And my friends, in the few remarks that I have had the honor of making, as I have in this triumphant procession of the President, I have studiously avoided any allusion to politics. I have tried to subordinate them entirely to a feeling of patriotism, and I urge upon you now, men of the South, as far as possible, to forget the past differences between our people, to devote yourselves in developing and opening up the best resources of this country. I want to urge upon you this thing, and you will have power, peace and happiness evermore. I have not spoken of politics.

It was my misfortune, perhaps, to differ in politics from the President of the United States, but, democrat as I have been, there is no man in America to whom I more cheerfully, cordially and willingly do honor than to the republican President of the United States. I do that, my friends, because he is showing that he is the President of the whole United States; I do that because he, in the very first act of his administration, lifted that great pressure which was upon the neck of my own people. Many of them said he but did his duty; many of them had never smelt powder. Show me the man who will do his duty without fear and without favor, and who will not do more than his duty, and I will clasp hands with him, and will stand upon the same platform. [Applause.]

He has brought back peace to our people. He has shown that the men who fought each other can meet in peace and fraternity without any loss of respect. We could not do it when the State was pinned down by bayonets, and my right arm should have dropped from my shoulder before I would have given my hand in peace while my State was pinned down by bayonets. [Applause.] When we felt that every State was the equal of every other; that every man in every State was equal, white and black; when the great republican party, the dominant party, the representative of the men whom he fought, came forward and said, 'We respect you as men who fought for your convictions; as men who fought bravely and as long as they could fight.' When they came forward and said that to us of the South, and extended to us the hand of peace and said, 'We were only fighting to restore the Union, come back into the household of States; come back to the hearthstones of your fathers,' I felt that better things would be accomplished. I felt, as a Southern man, as a Southern soldier, as a 'rebel,' if you choose, I could come back. [Applause.] I told the men in Illinois that I had fought them as long and as hard as I could, and I would have been fighting them now if I had been ordered to do so. They honored and respected me for it, and that is the way for us to meet as brave men should meet, if not forgetting the past at least drawing a curtain over it, looking not at the bloody past, which is full of sorrow to all of us, but looking forward to a brighter and higher future, when all of us can march on bravely, honestly, truthfully, each one doing his duty to the whole country, leaving the consequences to God. [Long and continued applause.]

MOSBY CREEK, Tenn., August 22, 1876.

Xanthine Co., Richmond, Va.:

I have used the Xanthine now for three years, and have induced others to try it, and have never known it to fail in accomplishing all you claim for it. It is an excellent tonic a pleasant dressing, removing and preventing dandruff and all unpleasant itching, promoting and preserving the natural growth and color of the hair, and rendering it glossy and pliable. I confidently, cheerfully and knowingly recommend it.

WILLIAM CAMERON.

I have tried the Xanthine, and found it to be all it claims in restoring hair to its natural color and removing dandruff.

AGRICULTURAL ENGINE

AND SAFETY BOILER WAS AWARDED THE

Its Premium at Roanoke & Tar River Agricultural Society, 1875. The Gold Medal over all other Competitors, at the North Carolina State Fair, in 1876.

It is the most perfect and economical in use. The Boiler is of new design, being vertical yet all the heating surface is entirely covered with water, thus preventing the fire from destroying the tubes as is the case, in a few years, in all upright tubular boilers in which the fire passes through the tubes above the water line, soon destroying the exposed end of the tubes causing them to leak.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——Very fine sweet potatoes are selling in the Raleigh market at 60 cents per bushel.

——There is a letter held in the Raleigh post office for want of postage, directed to Wm. H. Overby, Newbern, N. C.

——Wade Thompson was committed to jail yesterday by Justice Chandler, of Oak Grove township, on a charge of assault and battery.

——Alfred Copeland, in jail 27 days as a penalty for some misdemeanor, imposed by the Mayor, was yesterday turned out, his term having expired.

——Many families, especially some in which there are sick persons, complain of the blowing of the bugles by the omnibuses at night on their way to and from the depot.

——A neat and handsomely executed map of Alexander county has been forwarded to the Agricultural Department by Mr. W. E. White, correspondent of the Department in that county.

——Gov. Hubbard, of Connecticut, yesterday made a requisition on Gov. Vance for the delivery of one John Thompson, arrested at Beaufort, charged with stealing a yacht at New Haven, Conn.

——Ephraim Adams, who had been at large dodging the payment of a fine imposed by the Mayor for some offence, and who was caught and put in jail Saturday, paid up all charges, and was liberated yesterday.

——Deviled crab and fat rice birds are among the delicacies offered on the well-set table of the National Hotel. Better fare and better attention are nowhere to be met with than at Colonel Brown's well-known house.

——Justice Magnin yesterday issued to the Sheriff notice to be served on the Southern Underwriters Association, to appear before him on Wednesday, 26th inst., to resume the hearing of the cause of Shaw vs. that Association, suspended by the proceedings before Judge McKoy at Chambers in Louisburg.

——We notice in the Richmond Whig, of Saturday, that Maj. J. M. Tate, formerly of this State, and well known as an active and energetic business man, was, on the 18th inst., unanimously elected Secretary of the Virginia State Insurance Company, to fill the place of Wm. Willis, Jr., who resigned in consequence of feeble health.

Mayor's Court.

Before this tribunal yesterday, a number of cases came up, among them about the usual number of Saturday night drunks, and petty offences growing out of them.

Mary Williams, colored, for disorderly conduct, was fined five dollars and cost.

John Lewis, a juvenile darkey, whose face is as familiar in the police court as that of the clock on the wall, was up for stealing another negro's Saturday night's purchase of sugar and flour, and was sent to jail to await trial at the Criminal Court.

Miles Neal, for larceny, sent on to the Criminal Court.

M. E. Quinn, for indecent exposure of his person, was fined $10 and cost.

Two young men whose names are withheld for the sake of relatives, were fined $5 each, and costs, for being drunk on Sunday.

Charles Dunston had Wm. Powell up for assault and battery; investigation showed it to be an affray, and both were recognized to answer at next term of the Criminal Court

John Hughes and Frank Norwood were reported for disorderly conduct in Metropolitan Hall; case continued to procure attendance of witnesses.

Water Wanted.

A gentleman who is dependent upon the pump on Blount street, in front of Maj. Martin's, for water, not only for drinking and purposes of ablution, but also for tempering his night-caps and eye-openers, says he can't get a drop for any purpose, although he has been begging for it five or six weeks, the pump having been out of working order for that length of time. Now, we think that he and others in that section depending on the same source for diluting their daily drink, ought to be heard, and the pump fixed at once, before the bottles of rain water put up for medical purposes are exhausted. The cry is, "we have plenty of money and plenty of whisky, but, for heaven's sake, let us have some water." We second the motion again, and say to the street commissioner, do look after that pump, or somebody will be complaining.

A Change.

The business office and the editor's rooms at the NEWS office have been changed. The business office is now the first door to the left at the top of the steps; those calling on business will please turn in there. The editorial room is the next door on the left; persons wishing to see the editor will find him there in business hours. Persons having no business at all, of any kind, will please call after the work of the day is completed—about 1 o'clock at night—when we will be happy to entertain them. Visiting friends in the city or from a distance will always be welcome at any time.

Justice Maguin's Court.

Delia Wood had her husband hauled up in this court yesterday, by a warrant charging him with failing to make proper provision for her, the said Delia. The husband, Iverson Wood proved that he had regularly furnished her seven pounds of bacon and half a bushel of meal (old plantation allowance) every two weeks, and didn't stay at home to eat any of it himself, it was thought to be a reasonable allowance for a poor man to make and the warrant was dismissed.

Catching the Blue Fish.

The party that left Raleigh for Beaufort last Monday have been heard from. Up to Friday evening they had caught two thousand and eighty blue fish and were still trolling them in. On Friday afternoon Bradley and Porter caught three hundred and twelve blue fish and one makerel, making six hundred and forty-eight for the day. We suppose, if they remain there much longer there will be a rise in the price of fish barrels.

Look Out Delinquent Tax-Payers.

Persons subject to poll tax in Wake county, who have failed to list, may look out for squalls, as we learn there is a party ransacking the tax lists hunting up delinquents in order to put them through a course of sprouts. There may not be "millions in it," but there may turn out a tolerably pretty penny in the way of costs to the J. P. who tries them, if there be many delinquents.

One penny saved is two pence gained by purchasing your groceries of M. Grausman. You can follow out the teachings of the above old adage. M. Grausman keeps a full line of all kinds of first-class family groceries.

Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly

For October is an excellent number of this admirable publication. It has in all 128 pages and 100 illustrations. It opens with an article entitled "England's Queen," illustrated with twenty good engravings; another article on "The Commune of Paris" is accompanied with forty illustrations. Among its many good stories is one entitled "Captain Sam's Change," by the author of "Helen's Babies"; followed by "The Ebony Bride," by Ella B. Washington; the continuation of "The Dreamland of Love," etc., etc. The amount of instruction, entertainment and amusement afforded by the articles stories, anecdotes, poems, etc., in this issue of the Monthly is not excelled by that of any of its cotemporaries. Single copies are 25 cents, annual subscription price, $2.50, free by mail. Address, Frank Leslie's Publishing House, 537 Pearl Street, New York.

To Newspaper Men.

The approaching State Fair will be the event of the year in this State, and we hope to see our brethren of the State press, as well as some from outside the State, present on the occasion. In order to contribute to the comfort and convenience of such as may attend, we cordially invite them to the NEWS office, where they will find a table, pens, ink, paper and envelopes at their service day or night, to enable them to make and send off such reports of the Fair as they may wish. The NEWS editors and reporters will take pleasure in rendering them any assistance in their power. The NEWS office is centrally located between the hotels and boarding houses, and very convenient to the post office; so call in, gentlemen, write out your reports and communications, and let's "swap a few," while you are in the city.

The N. C. State Life Insurance Company.

We call the attention of our readers to the card of this excellent home institution which appears in this issue of our paper. We know the "State Life" well, and also know that its statements are correct and true. For nearly five years the Company has fought its way steadily to the front, in spite of hard times and all opposition, and to-day it stands a firm and strongly established monument of North Carolina energy and good management. From its very commencement it has faithfully kept every promise made to its patrons, and we unhesitatingly recommend it to our people as a strong home Company—well worthy of their fullest confidence and support.

A New Book.

"That Husband of Mine" is the title of a new and neatly printed volume which we have just received from the publishers, Lee & Shepherd, Boston, Mass. It is somewhat of the style of literature of which "Helen's Babies" was the forerunner, and we adopt as our own the Boston Post's comment upon it: "Too pleasant to be criticised. In a dozen ways it sets at naught the whole gospel of literary art; but it will be read and laughed over, and enjoyed by thousands of persons."

It gives me pleasure to annnounce that I can offer to an impartial public, goods at prices that have never yet been eclipsed in the city of Raleigh My stock is the largest I have ever had—and I can assure my friends that I can satisfy them in all things in my line, as to quality, quantity and price. Live and let live. A. CREECH. *

Death of Wm. Stanton--Kindness to a Northern Wanderer.

As briefly announced in our Sunday morning's issue, William Stanton, of New London, Conn., died in this city at the Boarding House of Mrs. Karrer, at about 1 o'clock Sunday morning.

He, in company with his companion, John McDermot of New Haven in the same State, arrived in Raleigh, footsore, weary and sick, both in body and mind, from a long and unsuccessful search for work in several of the Southern States, on Sunday 15th inst., the deceased being a wool finisher, and his companion a paper maker, neither of them could obtain employment in their line, owing to the scarcity of manufacturing establishments in the South.

On arriving in Raleigh, the deceased and McDermot sought lodgihg in the station house. Here Stanton, being completely broke down and suffering from typhoid fever, was compelled to remain. Medical attendance was procured and such accommodation given him as the place afforded, which was very poor and not at all adapted to one in his condition. The citizens of the place knew nothing of his situation until late Thursday night, when a few citizens hearing of his condition, took steps to make him more comfortable for the night, it raining hard at the time, and next morning arrangements were made to take him to the boarding house of Mrs. Karrer, corner Salisbury and Martin streets.

After being taken to Mrs. Karrer's he received every attention that kindness and humanity could suggest, but disease had too deep a hold upon his system; medical skill and kind nursing came too late and he gradually sunk, being most of the time unconscious, until death closed the scene.

He was buried yesterday afternoon at 3:30, from Salisbury street Baptist Church, Dr. Pritchard officiating, and although no kindred eye shed a tear upon the sod that covered his mortal remains, kind and gentle hands decked his coffin with flowers and evergreens, and sympathetic hearts sighed for the fate of the stranger who died far away from kindred and home.

The list would be long were we to attempt to give the names of all who took an active part in contributing to the comfort of the deceased after his case became known, but justice requires that the names of some should be recorded. Especially would we mention Dr. P. E. Hines, who attended him professionally; E. J. Hardin, Esq., and Mr. Hammill at J. P. Gulley's, who administered to his necessities when his condition was made known, on Thursday night; Mrs. Karrer to whose house he was carried, who waited on him like a mother, all of whom deserve high commendation for the unremitting care bestowed upon the unfortunate man. We would mention, also, the following ladies who gave flowers to deck the coffin: Misses Litchford and Mrs. Blake, Miss Smithurst and Miss Tye, Mrs. Johnston Busbee, Miss Blanche Lumsden, Miss Ida Edwards, Mrs. King, Mrs. Prempert and Mrs. Adams.

The coffin furnished was of imitation rosewood, and the funeral in all its appointments was of a character creditable to the officers of the city and all connected with it.

Mr. John McDermont who accompanied the deceased and remained with him to the last deserves commendation for his faithful friendship and unremitting attention to his unfortunate companion. These young men, it is evident, were not common tramps; they were simply young men looking for work and failing to get it were reduced to extremity and entitled at least to ordinary human sympathy.

Donations to the North Carolina Agricultural Society, for the Premium List of the Next State Fair, Oct. 16th to 20th.

(Acknowledged by C. B. Denson, Sup't, in behalf of the Executive Com)

One Alderney bull calf, value $100, given by Geo. T. Stronach, Esq., one of the most liberal friends of the Fair. We are informed that Mr. S. has refused one hundred dollars for this valuable animal. This is not the first instance of his generosity.

Selection of goods, value $10, given by R. Holt, Esq., Manhattan Mills, Patterson, N. J. Particulars hereafter.

One ton of materials for home fertilizer, $15, given by Messrs. Boykin, Carmer & Co., 3 N. Liberty street, Baltimore. This ton of fertilizer chemicals is kindly given by the firm above named in addition to the ton heretofore announced, making their contribution amount in all to two tons, or $30 in value. This is a house of North Carolinians doing business in Baltimore, and we trust their enterprise may be rewarded.

One dozen "Pearl" shirts, value not stated, given by Sam'l Sternberger & Co., 503 Market street, Philadelphia.

One improved eyelet machine, $13, given by H. L. Lipman, Esq., manufacturer, Philadelphia. Mr. Lipman's letter is short and to the point. We publish it and heartily respond to his sentiments.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13, 1877.

Mr. C. B. Denson, Secretary N. C. Agricultural Society, Raleigh, N. C.:

DEAR SIR—Your favor of the 3rd is received, and making an exception in favor of Raleigh, I send to-day one of my "Improved" Eyelet Machines. It is useful in binding or riveting papers, and will help in binding the ties between South and North now and forever one.

Respectfully yours,
H. L. LIPMAN.

Objects of Charity.

There is now lying at Mrs. Karrer's boarding house a man by the name of Thomas Catlett, a native of Franklin county and a painter by trade, in almost the last stages of consumption, and in very destitute circumstances. He has a mother and step-father living near Louisburg, said to be in comfortable circumstances, as they recently subscribed fifty dollars to Wake Forest College and one hundred dollars towards building a new church in Louisburg, and we cannot think them so deaf to the claims of humanity as well as the ties of kinship as to let the young man lie and suffer for the want of medicine and the necessaries his condition requires, or leave him to be supplied by strangers, if they know his condition. His weeping young wife and little infant are with him, but all they can do is to give him their love and sympathy; they are objects of charity and look as if they were forsaken by those who ought to care for them and help them.

What it is Composed of.

The official organization of the North Carolina Agricultural Society comprises thirty-five members, of which there is 1 Gov., 1 Prof., 4 Hons., 4 Drs., 6 Cols., 3 Maj., 3 Capts., and thirteen privates, usually designated by the ornamental appendage of Esq., in epistolary intercourse.

The purpose of this analysis is to show that the management and interest of the Society is diffused through every class and grade of citizenship in the State, and the preponderance there is of the plain, entitled element—that is of plain practical farmers in the management of the affairs of the Society; while even among those with military or civic prefixes, there are many wholly identified with the agricultural class. Some have thought and said that the management of the affairs of the society was too much in the hands of professional men not identified with the agricultural interests of the State; but the above exhibit will, we think, refute that idea.

Specimens Sent In.

Col. Polk received by express yesterday, some splendid specimens of corn, millet, oats, &c., from Person county, to be laid up in the Agricultural Museum.

Also, a block of black mottled marble, taken from a recently discovered quarry in Rockingham county. It takes a very fine polish, and is thought to be equal to the Tennessee marble.

Hon. Josiah Turner's Lecture.

This gentleman addressed a very large audience at Metropolitan Hall last night, and handled rings of various kinds without kid or buckskin on. He told some very laughable anecdotes and made some good hits. He gave good advice in regard to a remedy for hard times; told how he had managed this year to make a good crop and keep out of debt, touched up strikers slightly and the Southern Underwriters Association pretty heavily and expressed his determination to give the rings the benefit of a good airing during the balance of the season.

Salisbury Street Baptist Church

Six subjects were baptized by immersion at this church on Sunday night. The meetings have been going on there for the past two weeks, and will be continued this week. Rev. Mr. Dixon, of Chapel Hill, will continue to assist the pastor in conducting the meetings.

Military.

Capt. T. W. Slocumb, of the Goldsboro Rifles, having resigned, Mr. Geo. D. Campbell was, a few days ago, elected to fill the vacancy. The Goldsboro Rifles will be at the State Fair.

Personal.

Mr. James P. Hayes returned yesterday from Richmond, where he had been in attendance on the convention of the Irish Catholic Benevolent Association.

L. R. Wyatt.

(Successor to Rand & Wyatt,) will continue the wholesale and retail grocery and cotton business at the old stand, where he will be pleased to serve customers and friends of the late firm with First Class Flour, Bacon, Lard, Sugar, Coffe, Molasses, Salt, Bagging and Ties &c., at prices to suit.

Consignments of Cotton, Flour &c., solicited for storage and sale which will have prompt attention in sales and returns. *
